Proclamation

Eating

It is the tradition in our house to eat with your fingers and a dagger. Vulgar noises are frowned upon and good behaviour is a custom which we expect all our guests to observe.

The fingers will be cleaned with a damp lemon-scented cloth and afterwards dried on a large bib which will be hung around your neck by one of our servants.

Drinking

The traditional toast of our house is
" ALL - FULL "

If you call our servants, they will refill your empty mugs and beakers.

It is the custom to serve our house spirits directly from the barrel, which our servants will offer to you on demand, and which you can drink until you make a sign for them to stop

Mediaeval Banquets

These feasts are held within the historic walls of our Gasthof Krone. We can organize such an historical banquet to order, for any lusty group of knights with their friends and ladies.

At these mediaeval banquets, we pamper our with food and drink and with a herold, who accompanies you through the evening, tests the food for poison each course and assures your well-being at al.

You will be served 6 delicious courses, prepared traditional recipes by a total of 80 cooks working 7 days and 7 nights using the finest ingredients the castle gardens, as well as large amounts wine for a total of three hours..
